

Rate This

This extension provides a self-contained rating system that showcases five rating icons and the total number of votes, without the need for a database. It enables visitors to rate 'something' on your website, such as an article or an image. Each visitor can give only one rating per session, ranging from 1 to 5 stars.

The results are stored in a plain text file called `ratethis_db.txt`. If you use multiple 'Rate This' extensions, they will share the same file. This file is usually created automatically, but if the folder lacks write permissions, it won't be generated. Please ensure that the folder has appropriate write permissions.

Note: This extension uses PHP, but you don't need to change the page extension to PHP. The rating works in the background via AJAX, and the result updates instantly without reloading the page. The script that handles AJAX requests is called `ratethis_update.php`

Styling

The extension has styling options to customize text color, icon color, font-family, font-size and padding.

Icon

It's also possible to customize the icon. Most icon libraries that work with WWB's icon object, will also work with the 'Like This' extension.

The icon will also be published as SVG to reduce the output size.
